LPG launches triple-action CELLU M6 Alliance

French skincare brand LPG has launched a triple-action endermologie solution in the UK.

The company claims that endermologie is a 100% natural, non-invasive, anti-ageing and non-aggressive contouring technique which has now been made available in a new all-in-one solution named CELLU M6 Alliance.

The CELLU M6 Alliance is the technology's tenth generation in the range and the first time that the treatment head has been entirely redesigned.

LPG claims that the technique works by making the skin healthier from within where dermal cells reactivate the endogenous synthesis of collagen, elastin and hyaluronic acid, fat cells restart the natural lipolysis process, the septa are softened, releasing tissue compression, and venous and lymphatic flows are accelerated.
